❖ PARISH NOTES

Becoming "catholic" | Mary McGlone

If you wanted to name the three most important events of your life, how would you go about choosing them? Your birth is an obvious first. But after that, what criteria would you use to select the others?

Karl Rahner, one of the most renowned theologians of the 20th century, described what he saw as the three pivotal stages in the history of the Catholic Church.

The first, primitive Jewish Christianity, encompassed the short period of the life, death and resurrection of Jesus and the primitive Jewish-Christian movement. In today's first reading, we hear about the struggle to grow into the second stage in which Christianity became open to the then-known world. In Acts 15, Luke gives us only the vaguest of hints about the passion and drama involved in the disciples' arguments about what should be required of Gentile converts to Christianity.

For Paul, Christianity was built on faith in Christ expressed through love, nothing else. (Galatians 5:6)

At one point, Peter concluded, saying that God "made no distinction between us and them, for by faith he purified their hearts" (Acts 15:9).

The third pivotal moment for the church was the Second Vatican Council. Vatican II the opportunity to become genuinely catholic, the church to become incarnate in the diversity of all the world's cultures. What does this mean to us? The disciples' conflict can sound very familiar as we struggle over how our church and society are being called to adapt and change, bring diverse cultures into living contact with one another.

If Paul and Karl Rahner are right, we are living in a moment of extraordinary grace and opportunity. Our debates may be fierce, but we need to trust that the Holy Spirit will guide us if we are open. .

❖ THE SPIRIT OF THE LITURGY

In today's Gospel reading, Jesus promises, "Peace I leave with you; my peace I give to you.

"Peace? What does Jesus mean by that?

What can we do as Christians to make peace when we find ourselves trapped in division and turmoil?

In his priceless wisdom, Jesus gives his love freely and encourages us to invite his Spirit of love to dwell in our hearts. If we live in that love, we will be transformed into the peace Christ promise.

Whenever we share love, it is multiplied in our hearts, our lives and the world. We create the atmosphere for enduring peace to thrive.

**Please take note****

Confessions will be heard in the chapel, on the 4th Sunday of each month, after Mass at 11:45
